Argos non-Profit statute finalities

Argos non-profit Association. Aim and object

The Association is apolitical, unaffiliated to any trade-union and does not have the finality of financial gain.

The aims of the Association are as such: social, cultural and artistic advancement; training of the Police Forces members and generally of those belonging to the Armed Forces; supplying a general view on facts concerning geopolitics and security, by organizing an observatory of events, meetings, seminars, supplements, issues, courses and activities, which will promote culture and information in order to accomplish further development of the social security level.

One of its aims will be that of assembling national and international law enforcement agencies, in order to exchange information on security levels and study their improvement and renewal.

This democratic and independent Association, is intended to encourage the associative spirit, the comparison among its members, to promote the exchange of ideas, experiences and cultural contributions; to promote meetings and connections with local and central, social, administrative, of the trade-unions and political-governmental organizations, in order to realize and achieve a model of united principles among its members and those of the Police Forces.

Moreover, the Association is intended to organize, within the limits prescribed by law, social activities meant to improve the psychophysical conditions and the quality of life of its members, by promoting sports and active co-operation too.

The Association, basing itself on solidarity principles, promotes supportive events in favour of the Police Forces officers' families, contributing to psychophysical health-care.

For the furthering of the social aim, the Association will also:

- promote and organize vocational and refresher training;
- promote travelling, agreements, facilitated cooperative building societies;
- promote study and cultural exchange within international Police Forces and governmental and non-governmental organizations, having the same purposes;
- promote the spreading and knowledge of what is listed above, through multimedia and editorial publications, using the internet as well, and gathering public and private funds, donations, advertising and anything else needed to support it.
